COUNTY FAIR.—It has been suggested by several of our leading business men that an association be organized, for the purpose of giving an old-fashioned county fair. Such a fair would prove beneficial to the business interests of the community, and there is no question as to its being well attended. Now is the time that steps should be taken in the matter. Don't wait till the Summer time to agitate the question, but get down to work and let us have an old-fashioned fair. Let some one take hold and organize a stock company.

Knocked Out By a Veto.

In the City Council meeting held on last Thursday night, the matter of granting a franchise to the Bluegrass Traction Co., to travel over the streets of Paris, came up. After considerable argument, the vote was put and resulted as follows: For the franchise, Ashbrook, Brannon, Montgomery and Woods; against same, Hinton, O'Brien and Parrish. The vote stood four to three in favor of the proposition. The Mayor at once vetoed the measure.

A Cyclone.

A cyclone of unusual severity passed over Paris on Saturday afternoon at about 5:15, going from Southwest to Northwest, and doing considerable damage. It attracted the attention of large crowds on the streets. Hemp fields were swept clean and straw stacks were picked up and carried for some distance. Rail fences were also demolished.

The storm was apparently too high to do serious damage. After passing a huge barn on the Woodford place the storm veered toward this city and near the city struck the high cliffs just back of town and passed high in the air in a Northerly direction.
